

Chitwan Jungle Safari

Swap mountains for jungle in Chitwan National Park, a UNESCO World Heritage Site in Nepal's southern lowlands. On this 3-day safari you look for one-horned rhinos, crocodiles, deer and hundreds of bird species on a jeep safari, a guided jungle walk and a dugout canoe ride on the Rapti river, and discover the culture of the Tharu people. Easy, relaxing and perfect after a trek.

Highest point: 200 m

DAY BY DAY

1

Travel to Sauraha, Tharu village walk

Travel by tourist coach from Kathmandu or Pokhara to Sauraha (about 5–6 hours). In the afternoon, visit a Tharu village and watch the sunset by the Rapti river, followed by a Tharu cultural dance.

200 m · Meals: Lunch, Dinner · Overnight: Resort in Sauraha

2

Canoe ride, jungle walk and jeep safari

Glide down the Rapti river in a dugout canoe looking for crocodiles and birds, then continue on a guided jungle walk. In the afternoon, a jeep safari takes you deep into the national park in search of rhinos, deer, wild boar and, with luck, a tiger or sloth bear.

200 m · 3 h walking · Meals: Breakfast, Lunch, Dinner · Overnight: Resort in Sauraha

3

Bird watching, return journey

Early morning bird watching along the river, breakfast and the coach back to Kathmandu or Pokhara.

200 m · 1.5 h walking · Meals: Breakfast

QUESTIONS TRAVELLERS ASK

Do you offer elephant rides?

No. We do not offer elephant-back safaris, for animal-welfare reasons. Our safaris are by jeep, canoe and on foot with experienced naturalist guides.

What is the best time to visit Chitwan?

October to March is pleasant and dry; February to April, when the grass is cut, is the best time to see rhinos and tigers. The park is hot and wet during the monsoon.
